Firemen's Parade on Thanksgiving Day.

In pursuance to Call, a meeting was held by the Fire Department of the City of Dayton, at the Oregon Engine House, on Thursday Evening, Nov. 17, 1889. It was, on motion,

Resolved, That the several Fire Companies of this City have a general parade of Thursday, Nov. 24th.

The following order will be observed in forming the line:

1st. Hook and Ladder Company, No. 1.

2nd. Independent " No. 1.

3d. Oregon " No. 1.

4th. Neptune " No. 2.

5th. Deluge " No. 4.

6th. Miami " No. 5.

7th. Pacific " No. 6.

The above Companies are to meet at half past one o'clock, p. m., of said day, to take up the following Line of March—

Start from the corner of 3d and St. Clair; March on St. Clair to 2d St.; West on 2d St. to Jefferson St.; South on Jefferson to 5th St.; West on 5th to Main; North on Main to 9th; West on 9th to Ludlow; South on Ludlow to 3d; East on 3d to Canal; then to be dismissed for exercise. By order.

JOE E. BOYER, Sec'y.

Our friends who are on a sporting expedition in the regions north of this, will no doubt hail the pleasant weather of today as one of the best things they have had since they left home. If they are wise they will improve it to make their way home, despite the good living and blandishments they would leave behind. All things considered, we do not wonder at the eagerness which sportsmen evince to go to the Larnie, and the pertinacity with which they "stick" after they get there, for Capt. Baker can make "December as pleasant as May," and if any difference, more so.

Mr. J. E. Boyer, a man named Cripp, who was engaged on a freight train on the C. & E.
D. Road, while getting off the cars when he was in motion, at the Madison House, yesterday evening, fell under the wheels, and was killed.
He was horribly mangled.

Extensive preparations are being made in different directions in our city for having an agreeable time on Thursday. We hear of several old fashioned dinners to come off on Thanksgiving Day—remembrances of other days, when the printers were "considered in," and their scanty luncheon was generally supplied for the occasion by contributions from the people for whose pleasure and profit they labored, with little remuneration aside from a consciousness of contributing to the happiness of others—generous souls! We have not forgotten our experience, and the memory, although slightly tinged with a saddened hue, is pleasant.

To RENT.—Business men are referred to the advertisements of Mr. Beckel, in another column. It is unnecessary, perhaps, to speak of his Hall, which is one of the most capacious in the West, and as showmen and musicians are aware, is adapted to any kind of performance. It is the only Hall in the City which can be used for theatrical representations, and has been recently put in extra good condition. Its position is central, being in the centre of the City.

The Store rooms advertised for rent are among the best located in the City.

We had a lovely morning, at the break of day, and a mild, genial day has succeeded it.
For this evidence of the Goodness of Providence we are thankful.

The Oysters for Thanksgiving Day and evening are beginning to arrive at No. 300, Third street, in order to supply dealers and others at a distance. To-morrow they will arrive by platforms.

Persons in want of a snug and comfortable boarding house, in a pleasant part of the city and convenient to the central business portion, are referred to an advertisement in today's paper.

The public who have legal writing to do, to be done in proper form, are referred to the Notarial Notices of Mr. Baumann, in another column. He is a gentleman who is well qualified to discharge the business belonging to his position.

The bear tax of Vermont, last year was $500.
The State pays a premium for bear scalp.
